

James Brown of Barton Springs Mill

DATE: Monday, October 12, 2020 TIME: 6 p.m. CST LOCATION: Online

James Brown of Barton Springs Mills will be sharing his story of bringing heritage grains back to Texas. Get to know your local miller as he tells the story of being a long-time music conductor that sold his beloved violas de gamba to buy a mill and a banjo. He met organic farmers, collected seeds, learned about growing seasons and rain and drought and pests. He came to understand the toll of humidity, cross-pollination, and broken fork lifts on a deeply personal level. Ancient music, now ancient grains—none of it easy, much to be learned, all to be gained. You've tasted his grains at craft bakeries and breweries like Easy Tiger, Jester King, Sour Duck and from the bulk section at Central Market. Now meet the miller bringing organically grown, ancient grains and flavors back to Central Texas.

All of our events are FREE and we are always looking for new members to help us support our mission. Visit AustinOrganicGardeners.org to become a member of the oldest organic garden club in America. Memberships are only $10 a year and 100% of dues go to the Zilker Botanical Garden.

Follow us online for event links and more!

The City of Austin is proud to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act. If you require assistance for participation in our programs or use of our facilities, please call (512) 974 - 3914

